PRESIDENT'S LETTER

From the President:

Hello! My name is Joan Brausch and I was elected president of the Society last May. I've been a member of the Midland Genealogical Society for three years. I am very much a newcomer in genealogy compared to many of our members. I've been researching my family roots for four years now and am thoroughly hooked! None of my ancestors are from this area, but Dave and I have been here for 27 years and it's become home for us.

President Joan Brausch

A lot of my time during the course of a week is taken up with genealogy, but not my own research much, darn it! As well as being president of the Society, I'm also State Coordinator for MIGenWeb, the Michigan division of the USGenWeb Project, which provides genealogical information on the Internet. I also host the Clare County site for MIGenWeb. I used to host Midland County and by working with people researching in Midland county came to appreciate the rich history of this area of the state: full of turmoil, movement of peoples, growth, and lots of interesting and colorful people.

We have a great year of programs lined up! Our first meeting, on September 15, is a special event. We have invited Shirley Hodges, a professional genealogist who lives in Adrian, to come and talk with us about the reasons people moved to Michigan and why different ethnic groups were drawn to this state. Shirley is an engaging and interesting speaker. She has great enthusiasm for history and genealogy and I think we are in for a treat. We have invited members of other area genealogy societies to join us, SO we'll be meeting in the Auditorium at the Library that night - at 7:30pm. (please note the change in time from our normal 7:00pm meeting time)

Check out the other programs and also the workshop on other pages of the newsletter

As we look towards our first meeting of the year on September 15, we are still in need of Board members: Program Chairperson, Secretary and one more Hospitality person. As you'll see, most of the programs are planned, but PR and notices need to be taken care of as well as finalizing the plans. The Secretary takes notes at the board meeting and also notes any business discussed at the monthly meeting. The Hospitality people make sure there is coffee, tea and cookies for us to share at the end of our meetings - and this conversation time is important sharing time.

Please DO consider helping us continue to grow as an organization. We need each other to make this all work. As a Society, we have done a lot of good for those who are members and also have been of great help to those researching their family history here in Midland. There's always more we can do. We have been given much by those who have shared information with us. Hopefully, over the next several years, we can return the favor by sharing the richness of Midland's genealogical heritage with others. And we need EVERYONE to make that possible. Please do consider where you might be of help this year. To make this organization great, we need everyone to give of themselves. I know we'll be all the richer for it.

See you on September 15!

MICHIGAN GENEALOGICAL COUNCIL by Kathy Bohl

Founded in 1972, The Michigan Genealogical Council is an organization composed of two delegates from each member society. It's objectives are to locate, preserve, publish and deposit in suitable repositories records of value to genealogists and to initiate activities which encourage and assist those who are involved in genealogical research. Meetings are held at the Library of Michigan in Lansing on the second Thursday of September, November, January, March, May, and July. Membership is open to any Michigan genealogical or family history society, amateur or professional, with a primary interest in genealogy.

Materials relating to the council are preserved and periodically turned over to the State Archives which is located adjacent to the Library of Michigan. Publications of the council include a Directory containing information regarding member societies dues, brochures, flyers, websites and publication lists. A sampling of other council publications includes A Guide to the Michigan Genealogical and Historical Collections at the Library of Michigan and the State Archive, Family Trails (five volumes), and Surname Index (Vol. I & II). (continued on p 8) Pioneer Record

MIDLAND PIONEERS BOOK

Although the book is published by the Midland Genealogical Society and there is a fair amount of genealogy in it, it is a collection of stories BY and ABOUT the PIONEERS of the Saginaw Valley region of Michigan and especially of Midland County, Michigan. These stories are taken from the "Pioneer Record" newsletter of the Midland Genealogical Society (Volumes I through XIV, 1980-1994) and many have appeared before in old newspapers and books of the county.

The stories are presented essentially as they first appeared and the reader should so note since they are many times presented in the first person as they happened, or were told to the person who wrote them down. The reader will see many places where the story will note that persons, now long gone, are living when the story was written. There will also be many instances where a location will be given as being where some well-known landmark of long ago once stood, but which few now-a-days would be able to place. The dates and places of their appearance will be noted with each article. This is the best we can do at giving the reader a sense of the time and place.

There are two sections to the "Midland Pioneers " book. The first, consisting of 5 short articles written between 1911 and 1923. gives some early history of the Midland county area. The second section contains about 160 short stories and articles written over the period 1850 to 1980. Most were written before 1925. The stories are presented in the order they were published and publication dates are included in the Table of Contents and with each story. These articles include information about the Indians of the area and the pioneers who first settled in "the Forks" in the 1830's. They follow the growth and establishment of what is now known as the city and county of Midland prior to 1900. There is a mix of history, genealogy, obituaries, humor, etc. There are weddings and anniversaries, Civil War stories, murders, fires, floods... Most people who have read it have commented that they read it through for the pure enjoyment of it.

Since these are collected from many sources and from many times, there is some repetition in them. It may also be noted that because many were written from memory alone, that there are some discrepancies in time, place, or fact. The editor begs forgiveness and hopes that they will all be found to be interesting and paint a colorful picture of the diversity of life as it occurred here so many years ago.

Ora and Donalee Flaningam

The "Midland Pioneers " book is 6x9 inches, 259 pages, with soft cover. It should be noted that the 38 page index includes ALL proper names -- people, places and things and is ideal for those who want to "look something up."

Only 100 copies were printed in March, 1999. The "Midland Pioneers " book may turn out to be a "best seller" since more than 40 have already been sold without being publically advertised. The book was printed by Graphics Plus, Bay City, Michigan. Copies have been given to the Editor, Judge Henry Hart (who wrote the preface) and to the Grace A. Dow Memorial Library. Costs to publish the book were such that more than 75 copies will have to be sold for the Midland Genealogical Society to realize a profit.

HISTORY of MIDLAND GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY by Joanne Rupprecht, Historian

Twenty Eight years ago on June 17,1971, the Midland Genealogical Society was born as a unit of the Midland County Historical Society. Judith Wiley became acting president of the small group. In 1972 there were twelve members: Kathryn Cummins, Jan Erratt, Bernice Freer, Bonnie Kennett, Ruth Klump, Kaye Lorton, Karen McKellar, Dorothy VanArsdale, Dorothy Virgil, Harry Walker, Dorothy Wilson and Pat Worden. Jan Erratt became the first elected president.

The fledgling unit met for six and one half years in Studio 7 at The Midland Center for the Arts where they maintained a small genealogical library for research. As the number of members and the library continued to grow, there was a need for more space and to have the library available to members and the public for longer time periods. In 1978, the MGS unit left the MCHS and became the Midland Genealogical Society. Their library was added to genealogical materials available at the Grace A. Dow Memorial Library. In addition, the MGS began to hold meetings at the Library.

The unit of the MCHS and subsequently the MGS have been ably led by the following officers.

The MGS has been and is an active, innovative organization of enthusiatic and dedicated members. The programs at each meeting cover a wide variety of genealogical topics (continued on p 9)

THE MANY BOUNDARIES OF EARLY MIDLAND COUNTY

The junction of the Pine, Chippewa and Tittabawassee Rivers has always been a natural focal point for inhabitants. The Sauk Indians initially dominated the area, followed by the Chippewa Indians and then by white men.

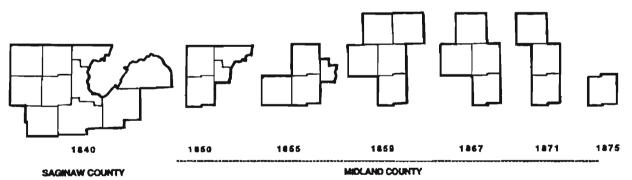

The Chippewas lived peacefully in the area and were spared the intrusion of the white man's civilization until after the Treaty of Saginaw in 1819. The pact ceded to the United States practically all of the northern portion of the lower peninsula and thus opened the whole Saginaw valley area (except for one or two small reservations) to settlers. Saginaw village had been the end of the post road in 1835, but venturesome settlers began to work their way up the Tittabawassee and occupy the lands around "the Forks", presently known as Midland.

The first permanent settler is recorded as John A. Whitman in 1836. Charles Fitzhugh of New York purchased land in 1837 and rented a parcel to John Wyman who cleared the land and built a home.

Michigan became a state in 1837 and what was to become Midland County was then a part of the organized Saginaw County. Gradually settlers moved into the area, the population increased and in 1850 the area was organized as a county by act of the Michigan State legislature over the objection of Saginaw County. The boundaries included the counties now known as Midland, Gladwin, Arenac and upper Bay.

But the legislature had omitted provisions for an election of county officers and it was not until 1855 that the original act was amended to provide for such an election. At this time the boundaries were redefined to include Midland, Gladwin, Isabella and upper Bay.

The boundaries of Midland County continued to be changed by the Michigan legislature several more times during the early history as shown below. It was not until 1875 that the boundaries of Midland County were set as we know them today.

- 1840 Midland was included in Saginaw County when Michigan became a state in 1837
- 1850 Midland, Gladwin, Arenac and upper Bay were part of Midland County when initially established
- 1855 Midland, Gladwin, Isabella and upper Bay formed Midland County when the original act was amended to provide for the election of officers
- 1858 Upper Bay detached
- 1859 Isabella detached; Clare, Ogemaw and Roscommon added
- 1867 Ogemaw detached
- 1871 Clare detached (16 March, 1871)
- 1875 Roscommon detached (20 March, 1875); Gladwin detached (29 April, 1875)

FIRST FAMILIES OF MIDLAND COUNTY

by Mary Lou Hayes

The "First Families of Midland County" project began in 1991. Its purpose was to gain a substantial amount of local genealogy by offering recognition certificates to anyone proving lineage to an ancestor who lived in Midland County prior to December 31, 1894. It was extremely successful in that it collected and recorded much data of Midland County residents and their descendants. This information resulted in records for genealogical searchers in the future and provided an extended source of history. The resultant records are available (microfilmed copies) in the Midland Room of the Grace A. Dow Memorial Library.

This important MGS project, which closed 31 December, 1994, will be known as "First Families of Midland County - Phase I". Pat Worden (Chair), Maxine McCullen (Registrar), Nancy Lackie, Ruth Ann Casadonte, Gayle Hanna, Arlene Hecht, Barbara Fox, Judy Anderson and Jo Brines were the prime movers for this four year project. Additional help was given by Lois Baker, Mary Lou Hayes, Alice Lund, Virginia Parsons and Diana Butcher. A "First Family" sweatshirt was produced. The MGS had a "First Family" float in the 1991 Memorial Day parade. Advertisements and articles appeared in area newspapers. The collection, reviewing and certification of the enormous amount of data was almost overwhelming.

Certificates were awarded to descendants for two classifications: "Pioneer" and "Settler". A "Pioneer" ancestor lived in Midland County from 1850-1874 and a "Settler" ancestor from 1875 to 1894. By the end of the project in December, 1994, there were 171 "Pioneer" ancestors and 234 "Settler" ancestors identified. Descendants were honored each year - a total of 1310 certificates were issued to approximately 614 different persons. One descendent could have multiple ancestors (or certificates). Individuals paid to the MGS $5.00 per certificate (maximum per person was $20.00).

Phase II of the First Families of Midland County project will begin 1 January, 2000 with certificates being issued to descendants for ancestors identified through 1900, with no classifications. There will not be a "closing date" but an on going effort to include all persons who prove by official records that they are directly descended from an ancestor who settled in Midland County from 1850 -1900.

Primary records are considered proof: dated copies of birth, marriage, death, census, land, tax, court, military, cemetery, church, mortuary/cemetery/sexton and military records.

Secondary records are encouraged to be included: dated copies of Bible records, obituaries, directories, letters, newspaper clippings, family histories and photographs.

A committee of the Midland Genealogical Society will determine eligibility and all material will be the property of the society. No material will be returned and decision of the committee will be final.

One may ask "Why open Phase II?" We have had requests from families to include their histories in our records. In doing "Queries" I have found many "founding families" were not included in Phase I. We have more people searching their families than ever before and a renewal of this project can provide histories we do not have. While working with other societies in the county, I have found they have open "First Family" designations and have had them for years. To start the year 2000, the MGS, as a society, should continue the work, "First Families of Midland County", that ended 31 December, 1994.

Most items are self explanatory. The budgeting process is complicated by the MGS book sales process. Publication costs are absorbed in one year while sales may occur for several years. Typical of this is the book "Midland Pioneers" which was not included in the original budget approved in Sept., 1998; the decision to publish the book was not made until fiscal mid-year. Thus the budget is skewed and almost impossible to balance. Questions concerning the finances will be answered at the Sept. 15, 1999 meeting.

MGS GENEALOGY WORKSHOP 2000 by Jo Brines

The MGS Board has decided to again sponsor beginning/basic Genealogy Workshops early in the year 2000. This project will be organized and coordinated by Jo Brines. The last time we provided this opportunity was in winter 1996. The response from the community, including several members of our Society, was very encouraging. The average attendance was over 35, and the results of the evaluation were for the most part positive.

The format of the workshops will be the same as used four years ago. There will be three two-hour sessions on Saturday mornings in the Grace A. Dow Memorial Library lounge from 10:00 am to noon.The sessions are tentaively scheduled for January 15, January 29 and February 12. Video tapes produced by two genealogy professionals from Utah will be used as instruction and as a basis for discussion. Each video is separate in itself but totally the three cover a wide range of subjects. Instruction with a computer is not covered.

Some of the subjects covered are:

Video 1: home sources, family and county histories, record keeping, use of LDS Library resources

Video 2: census, probate records

Video 3: land, military and vital records

Jo Brines

Several Society members will act as resource people at each session. Handouts will be provided. Source books from our own genealogy collection will be reviewed. Since we are charged $25 for usage of the lounge by the Library, donations toward that amount will be accepted.

The workshops will be advertised in area newspapers, on area TV, in the Midland Room of the Library and in the Pioneer Record. Signup sheets for attendees will be posted in the Midland Room.

The MGC through it's member societies has worked with the MDCH to transcribe the microfilmed death records for the years 1867-1882. These are now contained in a five-volume set, Michigan Death Index, 1867-1882.

The 1999 MGC seminar will be held at the Grand Traverse Resort in Traverse City on October 28,29 & 30 and hosted by the Grand Traverse Area Genealogical Society. Featured speakers are Henry Z. (Hank) Jones Jr., Cyndi Howells of "Cyndi's List" and 14 others. Titled TIMELINE TO THE MILLENNIUM, the seminar includes four tracks - Beginners, Search, Computers & Locations. DEADLINE FOR MAILING SEMINAR REGISTRATION IS OCTOBER 10, 1999. To participate in the MGC Surname Exchange, names will be accepted only with early registration (Sept. 15, 1999).

The Midland Genealogical Society has two voting delegates who attend council meetings and report back to our society. The Midland delegates have been members of both the Public Information and Internet/Gen Web Committees. At the July Council meeting it was reported that the Library of Michigan has received another $100,000 grant from the Abrams Foundation to enhance its genealogy collection. Of special interest to genealogists was an announcement that the entire Index to the 1870 Census is on the internet at the Library of Michigan Website.

HISTORY of the MIDLAND GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

presented by members and outside speakers. Many genealogy workshops have been sponsored, beginning as early as 1972. The MGS joined the Michigan Genealogical Council in 1980. Shortly thereafter, in September, 1983, the MGS hosted the annual MGC Seminar entitled "Canadian Research". Throughout the years the MGS has held many workshops, seminars and book exchange days, all geared to help each other in genealogical research.

In 1980 the "Pioneer Record' was started as the MGS newsletter. Pat Worden was the first editor. There have only been 4 other editors. Ora Flaningam served as editor for ten years from 1989-1999.

The MGS has published five books: "Midland County Cemetery" in 1981, "Midland County Census" in 1983, "Midland County Naturalizations" in 1983; "Midland County Obituary Index: 1872-1927" in 1994, and "Midland Pioneers" in 1999. Each of these publications have involved thousands of hours of work by many society members, but the completed results offer invaluable data to Midland County researchers.

In 1988 Pat Worden organized the first MGS group trip to the Family History Library in Salt Lake City, Utah. Since then, eight more groups have followed.

One of the more successful MGS projects was the "First Families of Midland County" which lasted four years, being completed in 1994.

The MGS has from the beginning donated books to the Grace A. Dow Memorial Library genealogy section. It was a happy day when the genealogy section was moved from its cramped location downstairs to the Midland Room in 1994. A few MGS volunteers spend each afternoon helping novice and experienced genealogists locate infomation in the library.

From little acorns great oaks grow. From the 12 original members in 1972 the MGS has grown to 138 members in 1999; but more importantly, the MGS has provided for its members and Midland County an atmoshere rich in genealogy and history.

MIDLAND COUNTY MARRIAGES

by Jo Brines

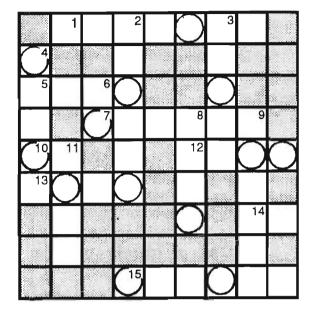

A number of years ago a few members of the Society began working on the Midland County Marriages project. The intent was to abstract marriages beginning in 1867 (when first required by the State) and to continue until at least the year 1900. These records would then be printed in book form, which is a very saleable item to libraries, genealogical societies, and individuals. We had the cooperation of the Midland County clerk and were actually able to work in a room in the court house and later the county building. The project came to a virtual standstill when several of those involved also became very involved in the First Families of Midland County project, which consumed 3 1/2 years of our lives.

Currently, over 1100 entries have been abstracted which cover the years 1867 through 1892, with the exception of the year 1890. Thus, nine years still remain to be abstracted. In addition, much work needs to be done before a published book results. I really believe these records should be available to the public in book form rather than via a computer data system, as evidenced by the many catalogs of "books for sale" we receive at the library. Books are still being printed and are still being purchased by many genealogists.

To restart the project we need abstractors (work at the library using microfilm copy of ledger sheets), a computer layout specialist, computer typists, proof readers and someone to finalize/edit the publication. I already have a short list of volunteers; if you are interested in this project, please contact Jo Brines, 517-832-8312.
