In addition to the Wyman, Fitzhugh, Gordon, Snyder, Cronkright, Townsend and Whitman families, other pioneers settled in Midland County before the 1850 Federal Census was taken. However the enumeration of Midland County that year lacks many of their names.

An accounting shows all those recorded in Midland County in 1850 were residing in Midland Township. This was a total of 65 people in 10 different households. A further breakdown shows 22 were adults and 43 children. Of the 43 youngsters, 34 were under the age of 10.

The birthplaces of the 65 were interesting as well. Thirty-four were born in New York, 27 were born in Michigan, and one was born in each of the following states: Ohio, Pennsylvania, Vermont and Massachusetts. Not surprisingly, the 27 individuals born in Michigan were all children 10 years of age or younger. Massachusetts-born William Johnson, 40, was the only black.

The surnames recorded on the first census of Midland County were: Arance, Davis, Fitzhugh, Johnson, Sherman, Townsend, Vance and Whitman. One is struck with the fact that the Wyman, Snyder, Gordon, and Cronkright-families are absent from the accounting.

Perhaps Joseph Snyder died before 1850 or possibly returned to Saginaw. Samuel Gordon is shown on the 1860 Federal Census of Midland County as 44 years old, living with Nicholas and Sally DePue, both age 50. It is reported that the Wymans went back to Saginaw to educate their children, returning in 1851 after the first schoolhouse was erected in Midland County. Perhaps the Cronkrights did likewise as both families appear on the 1860 census of this county.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Great Job: that's the performance turned in by all the members who worked so hard for the Seminar. It is reassuring to the officers to see such efforts expended by club members on our projects. Everyone I talked with at and after the seminar had nothing but words of praise for an excellent program. While we had a few small problems, everything worked out fine.

The latest publication is printed and bound. This is another project that received a great deal of co-operation, although I'm sure those who carried the bulk of the burden could have used more help.

We are now considering future projects that will, also, require numerous hours of work. I hope that some of the newer members will accept the call when it's received. In fact, volunteers would sure be nice. The Pioneer Record could use help in researching and writing articles. How about it?...give me a call.

Again, as your President, I am very proud of our accomplishments and more especially our members.

Les Berry, Pres. October 1983

A huge THANK YOU to all the members for their time and effort in making the 1983 Seminar the success it was. The 100% support that I had -- and knew I would have from the beginning -- made it possible for us to pull it off in grand style!

In researching the Wyman surname in Midland one finds the following deaths recorded in Midland_County, Michigan Cemetery Records, published 1981:

John Wyman 1802 - 1875 Sarah Wyman 1805 - 1883

John and Sarah are buried in the Vance Plot, Section G of the Midland Cemetery. In the Homer Township Cemetery:

John W. Wyman 1841 - 1921 Emily Wyman 1850 - 1936

(According to a death record of John and Emily's daughter Cora, Emily's maiden name was Wells.)

Sarah (Snyder) Wyman's obituary appeared in the Midland Sun, March 1, 1883 on page one. It relates her death took place on February 16, 1883 at age 78 years and 11 days. Sarah was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. She went to western New York with her father at age 8 and was married in that state to John Wyman. They came to Michigan in 1836 and settled in Genesee County, where they lived until February of 1837 when they came to Midland County -- being the first white settlers here. Sarah (Snyder) Wyman was the mother of 8 children, 5 of whom were living at the time of her death.

Other research shows seven of those children to be: Daniel H., Mary, Margret, Erastus, Julia Ann, Lucy and John Jr., probably born in that order. The 1860 census acknowledges Daniel H. as being married to Mary R. and Erastus' wife as Jane.

Midland County, Michigan Miscellaneous Record Book - Marriages 1855 - 1871 gives us the following information:

Mary Wyman, 25, of Midland married John McConmide (McCormick?), 25, on September 11, 1859.

Margret Wyman, 21, of Saginaw married Sanford S. Perkins, 25, of Saginaw on September 14, 1856.

Ann Wyman, 19, of Midland, married John McLane, 25, of Midland on August 19, 1856.

Mrs. John McLean (Ann Wyman) died April 5, 1886, the details of her funeral being on page one of the April 15, 1886 Midland newspaper.

Lucy Wyman (1839 - 1906) married one of the early settlers that made the 1850 Federal Census of the county. William (Billy) Vance reportedly rode into Midland in 1849 from Saginaw. New York-born Billy was only 14 years old in 1850 where he is found living with the Eli Townsend family. Two years later, with John McLane, he cleared the land that later became Main Street, Midland. By 1860 "Billy" had married Lucy Wyman and had two children, Charles H. and John Bion. A total of three sons and three daughters were born to Billy and Lucy relates Claude John Vance, 4435 Flajole Road, Midland, great-grandson of the early settler. The Midland Daily News of April 20, 1983 tells of the Vance family, which now spans seven generations in Midland County. Mr. Vance recalls that Billy's father was William and his mother was Margaret (Gordon) Vance. "He was always referred to as Billy", said Mr. Vance. (I'm curious to know whether Margaret Gordon was related to Samuel Gordon who came in 1837 from Saginaw.) Although Billy Vance was still living in 1911, five years after his wife's death, the year of his death was not recorded in Midland County, Michigan Cemetery Records.

Other death records show Charles Cronkright died December 28, 1880, age 71 years, 2 months, and his wife Lydia (Snyder) Cronkright died July 9, 1866 age 53 years, 29 days.

The MARY AND JOHN by Maude Pinney Kuhns. 254 pages. Published by Charles E. Tuttle Company. $17.50*

The remarkable story of how Reverend John White, the "Patriarch of Dorchester" collected the distinguished group of passengers for the "Mary and John" from the West Country of England has been well told by Admiral Morison, who included him in his early book as one of the "Founders of the Bay Colony". Maude Pinney Kuhns has identified 160 passengers on that 400-ton vessel and has made a valuable collection of their descendants in this book. The passengers and their immediate descendants are described in Part I of the book and data provided by present-day descendants make up Part II of the book. It is completed by a good bibliography and a detailed index.

Not only did these passengers found Dorchester, Massachusetts, but (as the book points out) they found that area somewhat uncongenial and a great many of them moved to the Connecticut River, where they founded Windsor. This was one of the three basic settlements there and their descendants include many of the famous families of Connecticut and the entire country.

MIDLAND COUNTY CENSUS PROJECT

Now that the Midland County Census Book has been completed and is beginning to sell (sold 10 copies at the recent seminar), I would like to thank publicly all those people who spent time reading and proofreading the microfilms.

Rose Marie Anderson Marion Berry Ed Birkhimer Diana Butcher Ruth Ann Casadonte Sandi Cassiday Evelyn Fagley Norma Furlo Esme Gehoski Bev Keicher Helen Lee Maxine McCullen Harriette Miller Ione Milliman Jayne Shrier Shirley & Ken Schweitzer Arlean Thornton Isabel Whelan Sandy Zilincik

Special thanks should go to Marion Berry, who shared some of the typing, and to Ben Brines, who shared the proofreading job of the finished copy. Special, special thanks go to Harriette Miller and Ione Milliman, who read or proofread at least half of the 1894 census, in addition to the other years. They literally spent many days from 10 - 5 o'clock at the library, hardly taking time to eat a bite of lunch. Without them, I would never have been able to finish the book in time for the seminar.

I'm sure all will agree the project was a huge undertaking, was very frustrating at times, yet quite interesting.

BOOKS ON THE SHELVES

Searching For Your Ancestors by Doane & Bell; 5th Edition, 1980, 251pp...in addition to chapters such as "What About Those Family Traditions", this revised book has a complete section devoted to Special Searches (for ethnic origins) and an excellent bibliography...an improvement over an already great book, first published in 1937. (Call #929.1 Do)

Your Family History by Allan Lichtman; 1978, 200pp, paperback...a "how-to" book on discovering your heritage through use of oral history, personal family archives & public documents. (Call #929.1 Li)

Life Writing: A Guide to Family Journals & Personal Memoirs by Wm. Hofman; 1982, 181pp...complete step-by-step guide to gathering your family's folklore and keeping it alive. "The genealogist looks back to establish what has been, but the writer of family history looks back only to glean the materials that will be composed in the present and transmitted to the future." (Call #929.1 Ho)

Scottish Roots by Alwyn James; 1982, 181pp..."not intended to provide the exhaustive and definitive guide to all the many sources...but gives enough of the bald and basic facts (what information exists, where it's kept, how to get hold of it, what you'll find when you see it...)" Chapter 7 deals with researching from a distance. There's also a form to use in applying for help from the Scots Ancestry Research Society. "The system of record keeping in Scotland for the past 250 years was well organized and the documents highly detailed." (Call #R929.42 De)

Irish Family Names - Arms, Origins, Locations by Brian de Breffny; 1982, 192pp... counties of Ireland along with color photos and a man with distribution of surnames makes up the first section. A paragraph on each of the 200 plus common surnames comprises the second half...including clan association, area, approximate time name came to Ireland from England, Wales, Scotland, Normandy, etc. (Call #R929.42 De)

Just a few years back, I can remember going to the genealogy shelves to check out anything I could find on the subject, only to find few books that weren't reference classified. It's great to see that the library now has many how-to books to help even the experienced researcher...and in refined areas such as Jewish and Black research.

A TRUE INSTANCE IN GRANDPA AND GRANDMOTHER'S LIFE, as told by Frank Hollinger 3 March, 1967, son of James and Marry Hollinger:

This "is a true fact". Grandpa and Grandmother Hollinger (who came from Ireland on a small sailboat) settled on a homestead in Canada. "I think it was in Huntingdon Twp., but it was near Belleville. Grandpa was a cabinetmaker. At that time, there were no close neighbors and no close towns. When anyone died, Grandpa made their coffin. He also was the funeral director. He had built a chair that tilted backwards like a barber chair. He shaved and cut the corpse' hair when necessary, in the chair. One night, the relatives of an old man brought him in to prepare him for burial. He had whiskers a foot long and the relatives had told Grandpa to cut his hair and shave him. Since it was rather dark, he called Grandma in to hold the candle so that he might see better while shaving the corpse. The corpse was in the chair. The corpse still had wind in his lungs and suddenly, when the air came up in the mouth of the corpse, the body lurched forward with a loud gasp. Grandma dropped her candle, rushed into the house, but when Grandpa reached her, she had fainted and was lying on the kitchen floor. After bringing her around with some water, he said, 'Now come on, we got to get him shaved.' However, Grandma had had enough. She exclaimed, 'not me, bury him as he is or shave him in daylight!' (Shared by Pat Worden, cousin of Frank Hollinger's)

This is the last Pioneer Record Marilyn Watkins and I will be publishing for MGS. Norma Furlo and Carolyn Bacon will be the new publishers beginning with the February issue.

One month after beginning Pioneer Record, 3½ years ago, I started a second publication, Wordens Past. Both newsletters have grown a lot and more time is needed for both. I will be continuing with Wordens Past as Norma and Carolyn carry on with Pioneer Record.

Marilyn and I wish to thank those of you who have contributed to Pioneer Record. If you have published a newsletter, you know the hardest part is getting something to say. Please support Norma and Carolyn in this manner or in any way you can.

Sincerely,

Pat Worden, Ed.
